WHY SIDNEY LUCAS LOST.

Jockey Clawson was harshly criticised for his method of riding Sidney Lucas in the Crescent City Derby, but there are two sides to such cases and his side is that he lost through following riding instructions and he may be right. Riding instructions cause the loss of more races than patrons of racing suspect and often when a jockey is roundly abused the blame really belongs to a trainer or owner whose orders have been followed with disastrous results. Talking about the Derby, Sunday, Clawson said:

"I think that little fellow sitting over there put the hooks into the Thompsons yesterday." The little fellow to whom he referred was Robert Walden, the trainer of the Derby winner, Prince of Veronia. "Only my riding orders beat Sidney Lucas yesterday, and I believe they were prompted by Mr. Walden. He and Mr. Thompson, one of the owners of Sidney Lucas, came to me together to give me my riding orders. I was given to understand that the race, as far as Sidney Lucas and Prince of Veronia were concerned, was to be run as nearly as possible like that mile-and-a-quarter race of last Monday, in which they went right to the front and Lucas beat the Prince a short head."

"If both can't get to the front let the one which can go out and make the pace and the other will come up at the end, and they will finish one two." That was what was handed me. I begged Mr. Thompson not to require me to take Sidney Lucas right to the front, but to let me use my own judgment, but he insisted. I believe Bobby then instructed McJoynt to lay away with Prince of Veronia, let Sidney Lucas make the running and then come on at the end. Mr. Thompson further directed me to keep well out on the track to the three-eighths pole, and then cut over the inside rail. He told me that the track had been scraped on the inside from the three-eighths pole home and that I would find good going in there. I have not ridden more than half a dozen big races exactly to orders, and yesterday's was one of them. I will never do so again. Hereafter I will not agree to set aside my own judgment entirely just to conform to instructions. The public don't know what a boy's instructions are, and if the instructions are bad and he follows them it is the boy that is condemned for a stupid ride and not the trainer for giving bad instructions."

"If I had used my own judgment I would have laid back in about fourth place to the three-eighths and then instead of cutting in close to the rail would have gone wide and Sidney Lucas would have won by two lengths or more. I have been roasted for a bad ride, but the roast was not deserved. To follow instructions I had to ride a bad race. I am dead sore over it. I thought Sidney Lucas was as great a cinch as ever I knew and I bet nearly all the ready money I had on him. I have won the Futurity, the Belmont, Withers, Metropolitan, in fact, nearly every big eastern stake, but I never was more anxious to win a race than I was yesterday."

"As I said before, I believe Bobby outgeneraled Mr. Thompson and thereby landed a stake that should easily have gone to the Thompsons."

Barney Schreiber, the St. Louis horseman, has sent six two-year-olds to the post at San Francisco this season, and every one of them, with the exception of Charenton, a California-bred colt, by General Miles, has exhibited speed and given promise of developing into a useful racing tool. The best of the lot, of course, is the sensational filly, Sofala, by Balgown, that has started eleven times, won nine races and finished second twice, running all her races inside of two months. No youngster in the history of the American turf has ever before duplicated Sofala's record so early in the season. Kingstelle, by Kingeton—Estelle, won a creditable race at Tanforan Park the same day Bannockburn annexed the Turf Congress Stakes. Merida, by Himyar—Astolat, exhibited a rare turn of speed in her first and only start, finishing a strong fourth in a big field of eleven two-year-olds. This youngster is a full sister to the fast filly, Miss Marion. Mrs. Brunell, by Kingeton—Daisy Woodruff, has started twice, and showed a rare flash of speed on both occasions. She is thought to be a good filly. Mrs. Brunell is a half sister to John W. Schorr's famous race horse, Lieber Karl, who is by Forester—Daisy Woodruff. Lieber Karl is the colt that Plaudt defeated in the Kentucky Derby. Mrs. Brunell was named in honor of the wife of the publisher of the Chicago Daily Racing Form. Shotaway, by Foul Shot—Ottawa, has started in two or three races, but failed to finish in the money. All these youngsters, with the exception of Charenton, were bred at Schreiber's Woodlands Farm in St. Louis County and taken to the coast last fall—St. Louis Republic.

According to a Little Rock report, Hot Springs, Ark., may become one of the racing centers. A movement is now on foot to interest eastern capitalists in a proposition to establish a winter race meeting there. The undertaking will be a very expensive one, and is expected to materially increase the business prosperity of the town. Several eastern capitalists have become interested in the project and it is more than likely that they will invest a large amount of money to make the thing a success. If the proposed race track is built it will be on a principle sufficiently first-class to attract horse owners from the east and middle west.

Then it is believed that the government would give permission to the promoters to put in horse pools at the stables so that the equine thoroughbreds could receive the benefit of the curative properties of the waters of Hot Springs.

The railroads have taken kindly to the matter of establishing a winter race meeting, and will be willing to give free transportation to three men for every two horses that are shipped in for the season. In addition to that the roads will agree to spend $4,000 each season for advertising.

Jockey Spencer, in addition to being a very capable jockey, is also a clever story teller. While chatting with a party of horsemen in San Francisco recently he related the following:

"When I was riding up in Petaluma one summer I nearly got in trouble over one of those electric devices which some one said I had on. 'Skeets' Martin, George Snider and myself went up from here to see what we could do. We were stable boys and ready to take most any kind of a mount to get a start in the world and make a few dollars."

"There were bad horses at Petaluma, as there are at all these fairs, and a bad lot of utensils to ride them with. Half the owners didn't have saddles, and the other half any colors. The owners were all borrowing from each other to get their horses to the post. One owner had me engaged to ride a horse, and he didn't have any boots for me to wear. He went out and brought back a pair with a long piece of wire hanging from each. I didn't know what the wire was for, so I rolled the pieces up and tucked them in the boots."

"Before I went to the post I was told that I had a battery concealed on me. Then the judges ordered an investigation, and I assured them that I knew nothing of a battery. Then the judges asked me about some mysterious wires which I had rolled up in my boots. When they asked me this question I saw through it all. I took off the boots right there and cleared their minds of any suspicion. If the judges hadn't called me up in the stand I'd have never known I had worn battery boots."

NOTES OF THE TURF.

Manager Frank Fowler, of the Newport track, announces that there will be no regularly appointed successor to Sheridan Clark as secretary of the Queen City Jockey Club. Mr. Fowler, who is the general manager of the course, will himself in a measure act as secretary, and will be assisted by a man yet to be selected in getting out the daily program. This is all the work the secretary at Newport really has to do, and Mr. Fowler expects, with assistance on the program, to get along without a racing secretary.

The popular colors of August Belmont, president of the Jockey Club, will be seen again on the track this season. He was in mourning last year, and the Belmont horses were run in the name of trainer John J. Hyland. The latter remains in charge of the string, which is said to be wintering well at Babylon.

The different hunt clubs in the vicinity of Baltimore have decided to give two days of steeplechase and hurdle racing at the historic old Pimlico track this spring, April 17 and 19, having been selected as the dates.

The entry of Dr. Nembula has been refused by the Oakland officials. He is about the worst actor seen at the post there in some time.

Ed Powers, the well known turf reporter, has been appointed clerk of the scales at Tanforan, vice Norman Brough, who has resigned.

PROSPECTS AT BENNING.

A letter from Washington to the Spirit of the Times last Thursday said: "Over 150 horses are quartered at Benning, and by opening day, April 2, this number will have reached fully 200, which will insure big fields and good sport."

"The track at Benning has settled and is several seconds faster than it was this time last year. Racing seemed to assume new life at Washington last year, and the fall meeting was well supported. Each day saw prominent members of the smart set in the club house and on the lawn and this year the meeting being April 2 to 16, inclusive, during Lent, I opine that a race-going outing will be quite the quiet fad of the fickle dame and her followers."

"The sport between the flags will border on first class at the Benning spring meeting, as there are already a large number of high class 'timber-toppers' on hand, and when these are reinforced by the large number owned by adjacent hunt clubs the size and quality of the fields will be first class."

"There is almost a clean bill of health to report from the horses at Benning, and while none of them are especially well advanced they have all had the same opportunity so the contests should be close and exciting."

"Among the stables already at the track are Anderson & Cahill (John Baker, trainer) with eleven, among the lot Bannock, who is asked to carry weight, 117 lbs., next to the black wonder, Imp. Bannock galloped six furlongs yesterday and pulled up sound and all right and should be start in the Washington Handicap he may be troublesome. In this string is the two-year-old Counsellor Tom, by Ben Strome—Craftie. This fellow is not much on looks, but I am told he has breezed as fast as anything at the track—an eighth in eleven seconds. They also have several two-year-olds by the Suburban winner Loantaka and a promising youngster by Carlebad."

"O'Leary arrived last week, and will as usual ride for W. P. Burch. He worked Decanter and others of the Burch string yesterday. This stable has recently been reinforced by a lot of six two-year-olds from the famous Kentuckian, John E. Madden, and that they are ready and good goes without saying."

"T. F. Coles, Charlottesville, Va., has the two-year-olds Charlie Moore, by Eau—Lady Grace, and Dr. Farriah, by Charaxes—Eoles."

"Doc' Street has Sweet Caporal, Royal Sterling and four two-year-olds, among them a good-looking colt by Henry of Navarre."

"Jimmy' McLaughlin has sixteen. In the older division are Charenton, Premier, Lady Lindsey, Cupidity, First Whip, Post Haste and ten two-year-olds."

"P. S. P. Randolph has a large stable, including Knight of the Garter, Nossy, Robert Metcalf and about a dozen two-year-olds."

"The popular and efficient horseman Mr. W. Fred Presgrave has sixteen, the property of E. F. Clyde, of Bryn Mawr, Pa.; they will race over the jumps and on the flat, and are all in the pink of condition. The jumpers look big and good enough to go at anything."

"E. H. Hanna has Beau Ideal and the two-year-olds Willard J. and Powatolus."

"Gwynn Thompson has a stable of eight, principally jumpers, the property of John D. Hooe, of Warrenton, Va."

"Wyndham Walden is as usual expected, and that he will win his share of races goes without saying."

"The B. & P. R. R. will run two trains daily to the track, thus enabling the sport loving public from the monumental city excellent facilities to attend the Benning meeting, and

NOTES OF THE TURF.

Jockey Edward Bunn, formerly a familiar
City, Mich., Friday night. He was born near Bloomington, Ill., and was about thirty years of age at the time of his death.

Imp has a full sister, a bay filly, by Wagner—
Fondling, by Fonso, which was foaled on
"Uncle" Dan Harness' farm in Ohio a few days ago. The filly is well formed, and every possible care will be taken of her.

Mitchell was substituted in place of Shaw on Tom Kingsley in the fifth race at New Orleans yesterday by order of the stewards. Shaw will not be permitted to ride at New Orleans in the future.

Graporius report from Memphis says that the two-year old filly Lady Schorr, by Esher—War Mantle is one of the best of her age at Montgomery Park.

Imp's dam, Fondling, is to be mated with Mr.
J. B. Ewing's successful stallion Top Gallant this spring. Cinderella, Tarentella and Lady Royster are also booked to him.

Went to post at 3:40. At post 3 minutes. Start good. Won easily; second the same. Colonel Cluke came away cleverly in the final quarter and won as he pleased. Swordsmen tired in the stretch. Swamp Angel quit after running about three furlongs. Rush Fields closed stentily. The field was badly strung out at the finish.

Winner—B. m. by Blaise—Active.
Went to post at 4:15. At post 5 minutes. Start good. Won driving; second easily. It was a tight fit for Donna Rita. Strangest should have won. Miller rode him all over the track. He also swung to the extreme outside on the stretch turn. The colt displayed great gameness, however, and came fast at the end and would have won in another stride. Possum made his run too soon and had nothing left to finish with. Nilmah shot his bolt early. Kyrat showed but little speed.
Scratched—17032 Sidney Lucas, 103.
Donna Rita, place, 2 to 5; show out. Strangest, place, 1 to 4; show, out. Possum, show, evens.

Winner—B. f. by Emperor of Norfolk—Marcopo.
Went to post at 1:30. At post 2 minutes. Start good. Won driving; second handily. Rio de Altar is an exceedingly game colt and a grand looker. This race makes him out to be about as good as M. F. Tarpey. Combermerie is fast, but seems to be faint-hearted. He weakened under the drive in the last forty yards. Rollick made up ground all through the homestretch. Diderot ran the best race of the lot from where he got off and will win when a good rider is up.

Went to post at 2:00. At post 2 minutes. Start good except for True Blue. Won ridden out; second easily. St. Casimir was ridden hard at the head of the homestretch and then again right at the end. Peace finished fast and with a little better luck would have been a keen contender. Mountbank was out off soon after leaving the half mile ground by Miss Marion, otherwise he would have been closer up. Miss Marion bumped Mountbank and lost ground thereby. Gussie Fay showed speed for three furlongs.
